

READY FOR TRUCK PARADE SATURDAY

The motor truck parade which is to take place on Saturday is eliciting a keen spirit of rivalry among Washington's business men.

The truck parade will be reviewed by nine judges, three of whom are the District Commissioners. The other six are heads of the city's best known civic organizations. They are: Walter A. Brown, president of the Board of Trade; Col. R. N. Harper, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Joseph A. Berberich, president of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association; Roland Robbins, president of the Rotary Club; J. A. Whitfield, president of the City Club; and J. I. Roobar, president of the Kiwanis Club.

Among the larger firms who have sent in their entries for the parade are S. Kann Sons & Co., Armour, Lansburgh & Bro., J. Edward Chapman, and Jacobs Transfer Company. In addition to these trucks the Government has sent in entries which include a portable machine shop truck, entered by Walter Reed Hospital; fifty-four trucks of the motor transport corps, the same two companies that will start on the cross-country trip on July 7; trucks of the United States Fuel Administration; Bolling Field, and the District water department. Bolling Field men will show how airplanes are aided by motor trucks.

Brigadier General Drake, chief of the motor corps, will be chief marshal of the parade.

CHICAGO MOGULS MAY REPLACE K. IN K. & E.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Reports were circulated here today that Chicago capitalists would replace the Klaw interests in the Klaw & Erlinger theatrical combination, beginning next Monday.

J. Ogden Armour and Julius Rosenberg were mentioned as figuring in the transaction. The report was denied at the offices of Klaw & Erlinger.

At the Movies For the Week-End

CHARLIE CHAPLIN
In "Sunnyside" at Moore's Rialto Theater all this week.

TOM MOORE
In "The City of Comrades" at the Metropolitan beginning tomorrow.

ROBERT WARWICK
In "Secret Service" all this week at Loew's Palace Theater.

CHAPLIN CUTS UP ALL WEEK AT THE RIALTO.

The double feature bill, which includes daily showings of the third and latest release of Charlie Chaplin's million-dollar comedies, "Sunnyside," together with exclusive first presentation of Martin Johnson's "Cannibals of the South Seas," will be continued at Moore's Rialto Theater after the balance of the week. The supporting roles of the day and musical program complete an exceptional offering.

"THE NEW MOON" TODAY AT AVENUE GRAND.

Norma Talmadge will be screened at Crandall's Avenue Grand Theater in the stellar role of "The New Moon" for the last time today. In the supporting roles of one of the finest shadow dramas of the season are pictured many players of individual stellar rank, including Pedro de Cordoba, Stuart Holmes, and Marc MacDermott.

Other bookings for the current week include: Tomorrow, Ethel Clayton in "Vicky Van"; Friday, George Lark in "The Devil's Trail"; Saturday, Rosemary Theby and Ben Wilson, with star support, in "When a Woman Strikes."

NOTED STORY ON SCREEN AT THE METROPOLITAN.

"The City of Comrades," a superb film version of Basil King's widely read Saturday Evening Post story of the same name, will be the feature of the photoplay bill at Crandall's Metropolitan Theater the last three days of this week, with Tom Moore pictured in the role of "Slim" Melbury. The leading feminine role is taken upon the screen by Seena Owen, and the other parts of prominence are assigned to players whose ability has been tried and proved.

In addition to the chief feature, the bill will embrace selected short subjects of varied interest and will be completed by orchestral accompaniment.

"BE A LITTLE SPORT" IS FEATURE AT THE GARDEN.

"Be a Little Sport," a rollicking comedy, starring Albert Ray and Elliott Hall, will be the feature of the bill at Moore's Garden Theater the last three days of this week, beginning tomorrow. It is described as filled with laughter-producing situations and in its presentation carries an exceptional aggregation of film stars.

"SECRET SERVICE" ALL WEEK AT THE PALACE.

Hugh Ford's brilliant and powerful adaptation of William Gillette's mighty dramatic triumph, "Secret Service," will continue as the attraction at Loew's Palace Theater throughout the remainder of the current week. This production, one of the most important of love tales erected upon the thrill and daring of the civil war, has attracted thousands to the Palace for the few days of its run.

The cast, headed by Robert Warwick, includes a splendid array of subordinate players, such as Wanda Hawley, Raymond Hatton, Thelma Roberts, and others. In addition, the program will continue to show the howling Mack Sennett farce, "Hearts and Flowers."

WOMAN EXPLORER OF THE NORTH AT THE COLUMBIA.

Loew's Columbia will have a special added attraction the latter part of this week, beginning tomorrow, an altogether unique production, "The Soul of an Eskimo." This picture, said to be the only one of its kind ever made, is being shown by special arrangement with Mrs. Vesta Dalton, who for fifteen years explored the Arctic regions of the great North. Mrs. Dalton, besides being an explorer, is an author and playwright, and in "The Soul of an Eskimo" she has brought her audience face to face with the strange, mysterious customs of the Eskimo race. The picture is made by a cast consisting entirely of Eskimo, and Mrs. Dalton appears in person to lecture as the story is told on the screen.

"A Daughter of the Wolf," featuring Lila Lee and Elliott Dexter and several short-reel subjects complete the program.

MAE MURRAY'S LATEST FILM AT THE STRAND.

Mae Murray, former Follies girl, will be seen in her latest starring vehicle, "The Big Little Person," at Moore's Strand Theater the last three days of this week and Sunday of next week, the showing of this exceptional offering being continued an additional day, due to the fact that the Strand will close Monday for an indefinite period while the house is being entirely remodeled.

In "The Big Little Person," Miss Murray's role requires the delicate shading of a true artist to prevent its being overdone.

The feature as usual is surrounded by short film subjects of the latest interest, together with orchestral accompaniment.

CRANDALL'S PRESENTS "THE THIRD DEGREE."

Alice Joyce will be the pictured star at Crandall's Theater today and tomorrow in the gripping celluloid version of the late Charles Klein's celebrated play, "The Third Degree." A distinguished company of skilled players is filmed in the stars' support and both production and photography enhance the value of one of the year's most impressive pictures.

For Friday and Saturday, Pauline Frederick will be the bright particular star of the bill in her latest Goldwyn release, "Fear Women." Abbreviated picture subjects will complete each daily bill.

"WHEN A WOMAN STRIKES" AT CRANDALL'S SAVOY.

At Crandall's Savoy Theater and Garden today the feature of the photoplay bill will be "When a Woman Strikes," a swift-moving melodrama of the West, in which the leading roles are taken upon the screen by Rosemary Theby, Ben Wilson, Neva Gerber, and Muriel MacQuarrie.

Tomorrow's chief attraction will be "The Devil's Trail," in which the leading role is taken by George Lark, who on Friday Mabel Normand will write the screen in "When a Woman Strikes," one of the most amusing vehicles this eventful star has had. On Saturday Ethel Clayton will be the chief luminary of the bill in "Vicky Van," a subject which will be supported by "The Devil's Faces," starring Chester Conking.

KNICKERBOCKER OFFERS "THE CITY OF COMRADES."

Crandall's Knickerbocker will offer today for the last time the latest spectacular film drama in which Mme. Alla Nazimova is the pictured star—"The Red Lantern." The photoplay is of astonishing brilliancy and the dramatic effects superb.

Tomorrow and Friday Tom Moore will be the star of the photoplay bill in the chief role of "The City of Comrades," a film version of the inspiring story of the same name by Basil King. Seena Owen is cast in the role opposite the star. "Secret Service" offering will be "The City of Comrades," in which Hale Hamilton is pictured.

KERRIGAN STARS TODAY AT CRANDALL'S APOLLO.

The chief attraction at Crandall's Apollo Theater and Garden today will be "The Best Man," a romantic photodrama of the Secret Service, in which the leading roles are taken upon the screen by J. Warren Kerrigan and Lois Wilson.

Tomorrow June Elvidge, Ben Wilson, and a cast of supporting stars will be screened in "When a Woman Strikes."

Other attractions for this week are Friday, Ethel Clayton in "Vicky Van," supplemented by "Love's False Faces," starring Chester Conking; Saturday, Mabel Normand in "When Doctors Disagree."

BRILLIANT FETE GIVEN TO PESSOAS

and, in fact, most of the leaders of official society.

Dr. and Mme. Pessoa took their entrance to the Hall of the Americas to receive the guests; and later in the evening they made a tour of the rooms with their hosts, stopping frequently for a few moments' chat with guests to whom their greeting, while in the receiving line, had necessarily been formal. Introductions were made by Major Albert B. Johnson, U. S. A. Miss Laura Pessoa and Alberto de Ipanema Moreira, charge d'affaires of Brazil, were the only ones in the line besides the hosts and the guests of honor.

Mme. Pessoa wore a gown of cloth of gold, short and straight, with an overdress of black tulle embroidered in jet beads in fine straight lines and edged about the tunic with a wide band of embroidery in jet, midnight blue sequins and gold thread. The girdle and a narrow panel train were fashioned of the cloth of gold and her hair was bound with a wide fillet of cloth of gold edged with brilliants. A single ray yellow lily was caught at the waist line.

In view of the fact that Mme. Pessoa has been spending several weeks in Paris and doubtless purchasing the trousseau which she will wear as First Lady of Brazil, there was more than a little interest in her gown. In fact, not a few of the guests were guilty of staring. She's a little bit of a woman, with a girlish figure and a bright animated face. And she was having an amazingly good time last night—unless she's a clever actress. Dr. Pessoa, who looked decidedly clever, also has the faculty of appearing tremendously interested in what is going on about him and the person he chances to be talking to.

Pretty little Miss Pessoa wore the simplest of pink satin frocks veiled in blue gray chiffon and depending upon a girdle of bright-colored flowers—a shade between American Beauty and watermelon pink—for a touch of originality. Mrs. Polk's gown was of soft ivory satin gracefully draped, with shoulder bands of jet. Mrs. Polk's costume was of yellow satin brocaded in gold and trimmed in gold colored tulle.

For once it appeared that the dignitaries of the fete were less well than those "below the salt," as Dr. and Mme. Pessoa, Mr. and Mrs. Polk, and a little company of notables supped at small tables in the Columbus room, while the rest of the assembly were served on the terrace under the stars, with the beautiful picture of the illuminated gardens unrolled before them.

The guests included perhaps the most brilliant assemblage of diplomats noted at any function this season. Among them were the Spanish Ambassador and Mme. de Riano, the Chilean ambassador, Senor Mathieu; the Peruvian Ambassador and Mme. de Tudela, the Serbian Minister and Mrs. Groult; the minister of Denmark, Constantin Brun; the Minister of Ecuador and Mme. Elizalde; Henry Getty Chilton, Capt. R. B. Glen and Algonon F. M. Grier, of the British embassy staff; Gen. Emilio Guglielmi, military attaché of the Italian embassy; Admiral Count Max Lovatelli, naval attaché of the Italian embassy; Count de Lencastre, Portuguese minister; Marquis Livius Tiesanu, military attaché of the Rumanian legation; J. E. Lefevre, charge d'affaires of Panama; and his sister, Miss Ramon de Lefevre, charge d'affaires of Mexico and Mme. Rojo, Mr. Zimmerman, of Netherlands legation; Lieut. Philippe Barbler of the Belgian legation; Mr. Nuida, third secretary of the Japanese legation; and Mme. Nuida; Hugo de Pena, charge d'affaires of Uruguay; and Mme. de Pena, and Miss Calderon.

Pictureque Mme. Nuida. One of the most picturesque figures at the reception was little Mme. Nuida, a wee almond-eyed beauty clad in her native costume, a kimono of deep blue crepe, in which she looked for all the world like a Japanese doll. Senator and Mrs. Peter Golet Gerry, but recently back from Europe, were present, and among others noted were Senator James Duvall Phelan, Congressman J. Willard Rodgers, Congressman and Mrs. Philip Campbell, Congressman and Mrs. Fred Britten, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. William Mitchell, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. William Crozier, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur F. Carr, Miss Patten, Mr. and Mrs. David Barry, Interstate Commerce Commissioner and Mrs. C. C. McChord, with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Le Roy Boyle, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilson, Commissioner and Mrs. Louis Brownlow, Col. Charles Kutz, Engineer, Commissioner and Mrs. Kutz, Dr. A. C. Evans, Dr. and Mrs. Francisco J. Yanes, Walter Pennell, Mrs. Wedderburn, Mr. and Mrs. John Skelton Williams, Major Theodore Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. William Alderman, DuPont, Gen. W. Walter Arnold, Samuel McGowan, Andrew Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ormerod, Miss Ormerod, Mrs. James Carroll, Frager, Antick, Palmer, Col. and Mrs. C. C. Walcott, Lieut. Frederick Meyer, Miss Anne Squire, Mrs. William Belton, Miss Helen Blodgett, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Smith, Mrs. Edmund Pendleton, Joseph Davies, Miss Ruth Hitecock, Col. and Mrs. David Porter, Col. James A. Dorst, Mr. and Mrs. Grovernor Clarkson, Summerville, MacCartney, Mr. and Mrs. Winchell, Mrs. Charles Brough, Mrs. Morris Evans, Mrs. Morris Evans, George Morris Evans, Mrs. Carter Field, and Herbert Hengstler.

Dinner for Visitors. Preceding the reception Mr. and Mrs. Polk entertained at dinner in compliment to Dr. and Mme. Pessoa, the company including Miss Laura Pessoa, Capt. and Mme. Armando Parlamanni, and Mrs. Pessoa de Queiroz, of the Brazilian party; the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels, William C. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce; Mrs. Franklin K. Lane, the American Ambassador to Mexico and Mrs. Henry P. Fletcher, the Speaker of the House and Mrs. Frederick H. Gillett, Senator, and Mrs. Gilbert M. Hitchcock, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Alberto de Ipanema Moreira, charge d'affaires of Brazil, Congressman Henry D. Flood, Congressman and Mrs. John Jacob Rogers, William Phillips, Assistant Secretary of State; Mrs. Thomas F. Bayard, Mrs. Francis V. Lloyd, Miss Lucy Mercer and Jordan Herbert Stabler.

The Third Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Brockbridge Long gave a dinner for members of Dr. Pessoa's suite, taking their guests later to the fete at the Pan-American Building. In the company were: Mr. and Mrs. Lauro Muller, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Gustavo Barroso, Mr. and Mrs. Eugenio Catta Preta, Mauricio Nabuco, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Joseph E. Kuhn, Admiral William B. Caperton, Assistant Attorney General and Mrs. Samuel Jordan Graham, Colonel and Mrs. Chase, Captain and Mrs. Boyd, Commander and Mrs. Baker, Mr. Sampaio, Brazilian consul general at St. Louis; Mr. Valle, secretary of the Brazilian embassy; Mrs. Morgan Hill, Mrs. McMillan Gibson, Miss Christian Huggins, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Lay, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Westcott, Miss Dulles, Charles S. Hamlin, John T. Coolidge, Hallett, Johnson Albert Billings Ruddle, Major Kramer, and G. Cornell Tarler.
